

Amanda Taylor

Amanda Taylor is a Research Engineer for the Federal Aviation Administration Civil Aerospace Medical Institute's Biodynamics Research Team. Mrs. Taylor holds a degree in Biomedical Engineering from the University of Central Oklahoma. She has authored or co-authored several papers concerning the safety of aircraft seats and restraint systems.